(from Nepal)

I studied for 4 years in Ryoma College, Japanese language and automotive engineering. I chose to study automotive because becoming a car engineer was my dream. Thanks to the teachers' dedicated support, I was successfully able to pass JLPT-N2 and the mechanic license exam. Now I work for Toyota. Before I came to Japan, I was thinking about going to university. However, I learned that I could get a job two years sooner if I attended a vocational school, so I chose to become an auto mechanic, which I had always been interested in. # ALUMNI INTERVIEW

COURSE Automotive Maintenance Engineering
JOB M·A·P·S Co., Ltd. (Mechanic)

Dao Cong Son (from Vietnam)

Thanks to coming to Ryoma College, I was able to smoothly become an automotive mechanic in Japan. After completing a two-year Japanese language course, I advanced to the automotive maintenance department. The curriculum of the automotive maintenance department was heavily focused on hands-on training, which I found to be very practical. During my time as a student, I had the opportunity to intern at a maintenance company, and I was well-received by the staff there, which led to a direct job offer. I am also very grateful to the teachers at this school who provided me with a lot of support. Thank you very much.

COURSE Japanese Language
JOB Kochi Fighting Dogs Co., Ltd. (Global Connection Staff)

Khiel Yehezkiel (from Indonesia)

Before coming to Japan, I worked for a bank in my home country of Indonesia, which was a subsidiary of a Japanese corporation. During that time, I was deeply impressed by the Japanese managers and their work ethic, which inspired me to aspire to work in Japan. This led me to enroll at Ryoma College. Initially, my goal was to work for a Japanese financial company. However, while studying, I experienced the warmth of the people in Kochi Prefecture, which changed my focus towards wanting a more people-centric role. When I discussed this with my teachers, they introduced me to the role of an interpreter for a professional baseball team, and I am currently enjoying this job. I am extremely grateful to the teachers for their support.
